Donkeys confident in Lions - Firemen battle

TAKING IT EASY in typical jackass style, the vehicles for the Lions Club-Firemen Donkey Baseball Game, on Tuesday, seem pretty smug about the whole affair. Game-time is 6:15 with the Little League Mothers operating a snack and beer bar so that spectators may munch while rooting for their favorites. The Lionettes will man a Snow Cone machine for the youngsters.

It is rumored that Bill Conlan will pitch for the Firemen and Bill Parham will catch. Their opponents on the Lions Club team will be George Baker, pitcher, and John Koon, catcher.

IT'S IN to wear a poster these days...if you're a car! Phyliss Crockett stopped to have one taped to her station wagon by CVYO member Allison Richerts, advertising the STRAW HAT FESTIVAL Saturday, at the Community Center.

'Straw Hat Festival' Saturday at Community Center

"Straw Hat Festival," is the theme for the CVYO Street Fair to be held Saturday at the Community Center grounds. The location was changed because of traffic problems elsewhere in the Village, and booths will be set up outside the Center.

The children's movie for Saturday will be cancelled to enable the youth group to devote their full attention to the Festival which will have all sorts of fun, food and games.

From 11:30 a.m. until dark there will be a "battle of the bands," with local teenage orchestras donating their time and music to the affair. Music for dancing from 5-8 p.m. will be provided by the terrific three piece Janusz combo, currently playing for the White Oaks production, "Carousel."

Each Valley organization will be manning several booths in addition to the many which will be operated by the sponsoring CVYO Adult Board.

A huge turkey, hams, roasts, etc., will be the prizes at the big Turkey Shoot booth which the Kiwanis Club will sponsor. They will also have a Water Pistol Shoot...putting out candles.

The Carmel Valley Women's Club is running a booth with Computer and Kitchen Art (come and see what it is!) and the ever popular Cake Walk.

Community Center Board members will man the Fish Pond and the Coin Toss.

CV Trail and Saddle Club will feature a Corn Booth and "Ky" Dahle will run the Snack Bar for them. The Adult Board of CVYO will have a Beer Booth nearby to quench the thirst of corn eaters.

Rides for the kids will include a Pony Cart and a Hay Ride. Clowns with balloons, under Jim Brock's direction, will add gaiety to the scene, in addition to many other attractions such as "Add-Em-Up," which the Lions Club is planning.

High point of the afternoon will come when Mary Ocampo's

CVHA annual Roundup set for Aug. 6, entries close July 27

Entries close on July 27 for the 18th Annual Carmel Valley Horsemen's Association Roundup, to be held this year at the Trail and Saddle Club grounds. The Roundup begins with open jackpot roping on Saturday, August 6, with the main events on Sunday, beginning at 8:30 a.m.

All entries in the 15 events must ride in the Grand Entry Parade which will take place about 12:30. Awards will be given for the best appearing senior cowboy and cowgirl (18 years and over), best appearing junior cowboy and cowgirl (17 years and under) and the best appearing English rider.

There will be halter classes for registered appaloosas, quarter horses and Arabians, whose papers must be shown at the office on the day of the show. Non-registered horses may also be shown at halter.

Other classes of events will be Hackamore horse, Trail horse, Western pleasure horse, Horsemen to be (8 years and under), Junior stock horse, Open stock horse, English equitation, English pleasure open, Western horsemanship, and Working cowhorse.

The Carmel Valley Lions Club will sponsor the Western pleasure horse class for 17 years and under. The Lions will also operate the snack bar for the two days. Breakfast will be served for cowboys and entrants beginning about 7 a.m. with pancakes, bacon, etc., with food available to spectators as well all day long.

During the recent Seaside Fourth of July parade, the CV Horsemen's Association riding group was judged first in its class by a panel of professional judges from the San Francisco Bay area.

Chamber provides babysitting service

The Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce will provide the service of listing baby sitters who are available for both day-time and night-time jobs. Girls and older women who wish to register with the Chamber may do so with secretary Lori Swiess at the Sugar 'n Spice Shop next to White Oaks Coffee Shop.

Lori said they hope to screen both sitter-applicants as well as tourists requesting the service before the two are brought together.

By Ford honored at Kiwanis

Club meeting

Veteran Valleyite Byington Ford thought his appearance at the Kiwanis luncheon yesterday was purely in the post of guest speaker. Invited to address the group on experiences and anecdotes of early Valley life, By was surprised to find that it was "By Ford Day" at Kiwanis and HE was the guest of honor.

By is a charter member of the group which was founded by Fong Jing of Carmel in 1952. Other charter members who were invited to yesterday's gathering were: Paul Porter, Tom Verga, Sam Corona, Alvie Byer, Charlie Nason and Wendell Redding. Honorary members Judge Ray Baugh, John Wolfenden and Wayne Greenfield were also asked to attend the noon meeting at Los Laureles Lodge.

Herb Brownell presented By with a silver tray, commemorating his Day, inscribed with the words, "By Ford, Charter member, Kiwanis Club of Carmel Valley."

"Doc" Marcucci and Joe Ricupero were at the head table to assist with the presentation.

Guilt by association?

It has been fascinating to read the letters published in our local daily from residents of Marina, Seaside, Monterey, Pacific Grove...supporting Tom Hudson's stand and "damning" those members of the "idiot left."

By his rash lumping of opponents under a convenient handle, he has brought a wave of reaction from people who don't have the vaguest idea of whom they are speaking (except perhaps the more newsworthy Baez and Heisler). Most of these people probably have never even been to Carmel Valley, let alone have any idea of local citizens who give many hours of their time working and planning for the community.

This is the irreparable damage that has been caused by Supervisor Hudson's mixing personal philosophical dislikes and personal political fights into a county zoning matter.

This is a deliberate case of guilt by association-If you can't sink 'em by fair means...let's try foul.

Seven hurt in two-car crash

A two car collision at Porter's Curve caused injury to seven of the eight occupants of the cars early Sunday evening.

A station wagon driven by Johann W. Mahlow of Monterey, carrying five persons, and a foreign car driven by Edward R. Cozadd also of Monterey, with one passenger, were involved in the dinner hour accident.

Vera Cozadd, wife of the driver of the Volvo, received a broken rib and wrist and was transported to Community Hospital by the Valley ambulance after being examined by a doctor.

Dr. Clancy Van Horn happened to be passing just after the collision and examined Mr. Mahlow, Elizabeth Mahlow, John Weber, Walburga Michaelis and nine year old Rita Gurz. Their injuries, mainly bruises and lacerations, were treated by the CV Red Cross First Aid crew.

drum majorettes, "The Gillettes" escort Ann Warmington (Miss Carmel Valley) to draw the winning raffle ticket for the beautiful Maytag washer and dryer. Youth group members are selling chances on the laundry ensemble at $1 each. Ticket tables will be set up near the two markets on Friday and will be for sale at the Straw Hat Festival on Saturday. There will be additional prizes which will be given to other lucky ticket holders at the drawing.

The Straw Hat Festival is the Carmel Valley Youth Organization's first fund raising benefit and promises fun for everyone...young or old. We hope that the Valley really turns out to make Saturday a terrific success!

Letters to the Editor

Ex-Valleyite replies to Tom

Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to correct some very false remarks made by Mr. Hudson in a meeting the other night re the "idiot leftists." Of these accused, I am personally acquainted with only two of them - Nancy Strathmeyer and John Sigourney. They are not idiots, they are not leftists, they do not suggest the burning of draft cards and they do not refuse to salute the flag of the United States of America.

And since we're on the subject of idiots, Mr. Hudson, as usual, had his foot in his mouth.

Editor: My wife and I are taking the liberty of writing to your paper in regards to the operation of a Carmel Community Baseball League for which you must be familiar.

We have made Carmel our summer home for two years now and enjoy the pleasant and soft mode of living that exists.

Our sons are of baseball age above the Little League class and had planned on being able to play in a summer league that the Realty firm said would be available to them, should we live here again this summer of 1966.

We have investigated to the best of our ability, and the nearest we can come up with any information is that there is such a League throughout the summer here, which invites boys over the Little League age and is operated by an individual Carmel man. To date we are still unable to locate anything more towards the source of operation.

We understand that the baseball league involved was for boys from the Valley as well and was played at the Middle School grounds in Carmel Valley.

Would you be kind enough to publish our letter, that it might find the management that we and no doubt other families are expecting to operate again.

MIKE LARGENT is justifiably proud of his swimmers on the Barracuda Swim Team. At their first meet of the season against Salinas, the Barracudas swamped their opponents and ran away with the honors. Among those receiving multiple ribbons in that competition were Mary Cummings (left) who won a first, second and third; Lisa Brill, who received a first and second place; and Christine Brill (right) who took three second place awards.

Kiddie Kapers parade opens Rodeo week

The Salinas Rodeo week will open officially tonight with the Kiddie Kapers Parade in downtown Salinas at 7 p.m.

Earlier this morning, the sweetheart candidates arrived and took their scholarship tests. At 8:30 this evening there will be judging on personality and appearance in the Salinas High School Auditorium and the Sweetheart of the Rodeo will be announced at 2:15 tomorrow (Thursday) after the Grand Entry March.

The daily parades begin downtown at 1 p.m. and enter the Rodeo Grounds at 1:30. The Colma del Rodeo Parade begins at 8 p.m. on Saturday in downtown Salinas.

Thursday will be Armed Forces Day, Friday is Salinas Day and Saturday is San Francisco Bay Area Day. Sunday is Championship Day, with the final competitions for points and money.

The California Rodeo marks the half-way mark in the rodeo year and top cowboys from all parts of the country will converge on Salinas in quest of championship points and a share of the richest purses put up by any four performance rodeo in the world.

A win at Salinas can give a cowboy a big boost towards a world championship. Harley May, Oakdale cowboy who won the steer wrestling at Salinas, went on to win the 1965 world's championship title.

Barracudas win against Watsonville

The Carmel Barracudas swam against Watsonville on Saturday and won the meet by a score of 270 points to 197 points.

style, 18.1; 3rd, 25 yd. butterfly, 27.1.

Claudette Cuny, 3rd, 25 yd. breaststroke, 27.1

Nine-ten years:

Laura Harris, 1st, 25 yd. butterfly, 18.7; 2nd, 50 yd. breaststroke, 45.5.

John Egli, 3rd, 50 yd. breaststroke, 49.5.

Eve Cuny, 1st, 50 yd. backstroke, 38.4; 1st, 50 yd. breaststroke, 42.6; 1st, 50 yd. freestyle, 32.1.

Bill Gardner, 2nd, 25 yd. butterfly, 17.2; 3rd, 50 yd. freestyle, 34.5.

Eleven-twelve years:

Mary Cummings, 3rd, 50 yd. backstroke, 41.7.

Tim Cordrey, 3rd, 50 yd. breaststroke, 46.5.

Diane Klech, 3rd, 50 yd. breaststroke, 46.6.

Alan Gardner, 2nd, 50 yd. backstroke, 40.6.

Thirteen-Fourteen years:

Donna Condren, 2nd, 100 yd. freestyle, 1:16.6; 3rd, 50 yd. butterfly, 40.4.

Rev. & Mrs. Johnson plan open house Sunday morning

Rev. and Mrs. Don Johnson will hold open house Sunday morning, July 17, after the 10 a.m. service at the Carmel Valley Community Chapel.

The usual monthly coffee hour will be held in their home, giving members and friends of the Chapel an opportunity to visit the residence which is provided by the Church for its minister.

The organization in charge of this month's coffee hour is the Church School of which Mrs. Johnson serves as Superintendent. She will be assisted by various parents and teachers from the Church School.

Punch and coffee will be served on the patio and coffee will also be served in the family room-kitchen and in the new "blue" room which was added to the parsonage this past year.

Friends in the community are cordially invited.

EXCITEMENT GAINS MOMENTUM AS BACH FESTIVAL OPENING NEARS

ABOVE RIGHT—Intense rehearsals mark the week before the Bach Festival opens on Friday for the twenty-ninth year. Sandor Salgo has been music director and conductor since 1956.

Mission is setting for 'Play of Herod'

"THE PLAY OF HEROD" will have its West Coast Premiere on Wednesday evening, July 20, at 10:30 in Carmel Mission Basilica. Singing the role of the Archangel in this Bach Festival performance is Paul Mayo of Los Angeles (center top). The Bell Ringer, played by Bonnie Lee Adelson, is in the center and the Mother-Consolers are shown before the manger at the foot of the altar.

These roles are played by Katharine Schlinger (left) and Lois Utterback. Both an adult and children's chorus are featured in the production.

Theatre party to raise funds for Farr campaign

The Village Theatre in Carmel will be the setting for a champagne theatre party, planned to help raise funds for the re-election campaign for State Senator Fred Farr.

The benefit party will be held on Wednesday evening, July 27, and the guest speaker will be State Senator Joseph Rattigan, D., from Santa Rosa. The movie, "Four Days in November," will be shown.

Tickets at $10 each may be obtained by calling Senator Farr's campaign office at 624-8251.

The Rhyming Philosopher

J. Mortimer Blanks, a conservative bloke,
Had never been known to taste liquor or smoke;
He kept out of politics, guarded his health
And never went anywhere all by himself.
He stayed close to home with his feet on the ground,
And never went swimming for fear he'd be drowned.
Not much of a lover, he took for his wife
A mousy young woman he'd known all his life.
They somehow had children and sent them to schools
Which taught them to live by conservative rules.
It's hard to believe, but this person benign
Was shot by his wife when one hundred and nine.

Now Blasfeming Blinks, born the very same day,
Developed his life in a liberal way.
Elected to office he rapidly went
To a fat paying job in the government.
Cigars by the dozen he smoked, and he drank
Like the booze all ran out of a hole in the tank.
He drove like a cyclone and worked like a horse,
Had seventeen wives whom he shucked by divorce.
He loved to climb mountains and ski down the slopes,
Amassed quite a fortune by knowing the ropes.
He killed opposition by speeches and pen,
And died in his sleep at one hundred and ten.

Carmel artists will open their studios for AFA's annual tour

The annual Artist's Studio Open House, sponsored by the Peninsula Chapter of the American Federation of Arts will be centered in the "Village of Carmel" this year. Eighteen Carmel artists will open their studios for the tour which will be held on Saturday, July 30, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Studios which will be included in the tour are those of Louisa Jenkins, Robert Horne and Valerio Giusi, Linford Donovan, Bernice Huber, Nancy Johnson, Leonard Heller, Virginia and Alex Gonzales, Sophie Harpe, Edda Heath, Forrest Moses, Stan Spohn, Francisco (Paco) Ferro, Ralph Jacobs, Milton and Rena Waldman, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Danysh, Betty Harrington and Lela Brown, and Barbara Tripp. The Cherry Foundation studio, which has been closed since the death of Jeanne d'Orge Cherry, will also be open on the day of the tour.

Refreshments will be served in the garden of the Spanish-styled Danysh home at Camino Real and Santa Lucia. A Studio Tour Smorgasbord Luncheon will be served at La Playa-a Hotel from 12 noon until 2 p.m.

Walking shoes are recommended for the tour which will show homes and studios never open to the public before. A biographical "map" of the artists as well as a map showing the locations of the studios will be given to each tour participant. Tickets, $3 each, are now on sale at the AFA Gallery in Carmel or may be obtained at the studios on the day of the Tour. The Smorgasbord luncheon at La Playa is an additional $2.50.

Summer Bible School

The popular Summer Bible School of the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula will be repeated again this summer.

The same non-denominational program, open to all children, will run this year from August 1 to 5 and 8 to 12; hours from 9 a.m. to noon.

Mrs. Donald Berry is the chairman for the 1966 program. She may be reached for further information and for registration blanks by phoning 624-3196.

A LONG-TIME PENINSULA RESIDENT, JOHAN IS ALL 'SEWED-UP' IN HER BUSINESS

Women are sewing more these days, according to a lady who knows, Johan VanLaanen of Johan's fabric and drapery shop on Del Fino Place in Carmel Valley Village.

She attributes it not only to the satisfaction which comes with creativity, but to the creeping cost of living, including ready-to-wear clothes. Young as well as older women, seem to be doing more of their own sewing, Johan finds.

The result is that the inventory of materials in her store has tripled since it opened six years ago in its present location. Her brother, Fritz W. Greenwald, had joined her in the business then, and continued a partner until she bought him out two years ago.

Before that, she specialized exclusively in draperies when the store was located for its first year in the Talbot building and for a couple of months in the former location of Joanne's Boutique. Draperies are still a major part of the business.

The VanLaanens had moved to the Valley shortly before that, and Johan decided she was tired of commuting to Monterey where she worked in the auditing department of the City of Monterey offices. So she solved the problem by plunging into business for herself.

OPERATED MARKET

Of course, this wasn't her first initiation into business. There were the years during World War II that she and her sister, Mrs. Louise Shook, owned and operated the old Avenue Market in New Monterey.

"I suppose I'm noted for jumping into things before I know much about them," she smiled. "There I suddenly found myself cutting up pork chops--before I knew even much about cutting up a chicken." But, of course, there was no faster way to become an expert than to leap in and sink or swim--the latter which they did nicely.

Johan laughs about her plunge into the drapery business here--on the spur of the moment, after inspecting draperies carefully and deciding she could turn them out, too. She had some hard-working, nervous moments with her initial efforts, but customers were satisfied, which was what counted.

Her husband, John, is in partnership in the Lighthouse Center Sunshine Dry Cleaners in Pacific Grove, so both are busy people.

They find time to be active members of the Duplicate Bridge Club which meets Tuesday nights at the Community Center.

Their daughter, Tamara, lives with them at home on Via Milpitas. A graduate of Carmel High School and of Monterey Peninsula College, she works as an estimator with Del Monte Glass Co.

RAISED IN P.G.

The family are long-time Monterey Peninsulans. Mrs. VanLaanen moved to Pacific Grove with her parents when they retired from their farm in Iowa. She went through P.G. schools from the fifth grade through high school, and shortly thereafter met her husband there, who was in the administration of the CCC.

His government post took them to Southern California where they settled in Van Nuys. Next they were transferred to Las Vegas, from where he joined the Navy when World War II broke out.

Johan went to work in the accounting department of Vegas Aircraft there, but then moved back to the Monterey Peninsula to be with her parents.

"But of all the Monterey Peninsula, I love Carmel Valley the best of all," she declared.

Cachagua 5-acre zoning extended

The Cachagua interim zoning regulation was adopted for a one year period at last week's Board of Supervisor's meeting. The five acre minimum zoning was set by a previous temporary zoning following a community vote.

A petition containing some 44 signatures requesting that the area revert to its former status was presented. The resolution for the year limit was passed with the understanding that it would be terminated immediately upon a vote of the residents.

Monterey Jazz Festival

'Blues All The Way' theme of Saturday concert; Ellington Sunday

"Blues All the Way" will be the theme of a big Saturday afternoon blues concert at this year's Monterey Jazz Festival, September 16-18. This marks the return of the Monterey all-blues concert which proved a sell-out success two years ago at the Festival.

Among prominent blues figures who are scheduled to perform Saturday afternoon, September 17 are: Jimmy Rushing, Memphis Slim, Shakey Horton, Big Mama Willie Mae Thornton, Muddy Waters, Paul Butterfield and his Blues Band and Jefferson Airplane.

The program will be hosted by Jon Hendricks, vocalist and jazz poet-composer. He said the Saturday afternoon program will follow the chronology and style of his now-famous "Evolution of the Blues Song," a program originally commissioned for the 1960 Monterey Jazz Festival and performed there in world-premiere.

"Blues All the Way" will highlight the recent resurgence of interest in the art of the "classic" blues. It will climax with the excitement of highly-amplified, folk-rock stylings.

Duke Ellington and his orchestra will be one of the features of the Monterey Jazz Festival this year.

The famed jazz composer-pianist-leader and his orchestra will appear at part of an evening concert on Sunday, September 18. At last year's Monterey Jazz Festival, the concert in which the Ellington orchestra played was a sell-out and a repeat is expected this year.

Season tickets for all five concerts of this year's Monterey Jazz Festival are on sale until August 1 when single ticket sales commence. Phone 373-2961 for information.

Drama Review:

'Fantasticks' features good acting, weak singing

Visually, "The Fantasticks" is a top-notch performance. The characters look like they should, they are costumed as they should be and they play against a well done, uncluttered and effectively-lighted set.

If they didn't have to sing, The Girl and Boy would sound just as they should. "The Fantasticks" is a favorite among plays...a parable about love, a fantasy, a tale of truth told with whimsy. The music is haunting, slightly off-beat and close in pitch. There is no chorus cover and the untrained voice runs into problems putting the numbers across. Anita Whitaker, as The Girl, is perfect in her speaking role, portraying youth, love and dreams, but her singing voice is thin and lacks depth and range. Rod Allison does a passable job except that he blows one of the most effective numbers, "I Can See It," by waving his body around so much that this reviewer found herself waving around, trying to pin him down.

Terry Eby as The Narrator, "El Gallo," brings a good quality of wordliness to his part and is quite effective in his singing numbers. "Try to Remember," is a haunting melody which opens and closes the show. His duet with The Girl, in "Round and Round," is one of the best scenes in the entire play.

The most outstanding actor in the whole performance is without a doubt, Bob Lynn, cast as The Old Actor. He was exceptional and received rounds of well-deserved laughter and applause. His sidekick, The Man Who Dies, (Keith Decker) dies magnificently and often.

The Boys' Father (Paul Feiten) and The Girl's Father (David L. Morris), old friends who set up a wall between their homes to intensify the love interest between their son and daughter, provide a good measure of comedy. Their duet of "Plant a Radish," in which they extoll the stability of gardening where you plant a seed and know what you'll get (as against children where anything can happen) is great. If they ham it a little too much, it adds to the fun of the production...and they look like they're having a ball.

As the two fathers plan a fake abduction of The Girl so that The Boy appears a hero, they join in contract with El Gallo.

The trio which discusses the varieties of "rape" available sings, "It All Depends on What You Pay," a fascinating "price list."

The second act, which erases the golden glow of dreams and introduces the young lovers to reality, is keyed much higher than the first, and the production ends on a note of truthful fantasy, still clothed in whimsy, however.

Michael Keller has done an admirable job of directing. The play is one of the most interesting done on the Peninsula in a long time. It is the first offering by the new owners of the Studio, and we think it is a good contribution to the summer theatre scene. This reviewer's only objection is the lack of well-trained voices, but as long as one remembers that it is amateur, not professional fare, a most enjoyable evening is promised.

Trumpets herald opening of Bach Festival -- B Minor Mass featured Sunday

Bach Festival director Sandor Salgo will open the 1966 Festival with the J.S. Bach Ascension Oratorio. The performance will be at 8:30, Friday, July 15, following the traditional inspiring outdoor concert of the Brass Choir at 8 p.m. This will be played as usual from the turret window of Sunset Auditorium.

The opening oratorio is one of the many cantatas which Bach was required to produce almost weekly and adapt to the seasons, in his position of Music Director in Leipzig during the 1720's. More elaborate than most, it was written for the Ascension-tide and was considered by Bach as Oratorium rather than Cantata. The work for orchestra, chorus and chorale as well as soloists is richly developed in its counterpoint. Soloists will be Marie Gibson, soprano; Betty Allen, contralto; James Schwabacher, tenor; and Orville White, bass.

Following the opening number, Louise di Tullio, long a favorite with Festival audiences, will appear as soloist in the Concerto for flute in C. Major by C.P.E. Bach.

A Vivaldi Concerto for Four Violins featuring Rosemary Waller, John Loban, Melvin Baddin and Doris Griffin, violinists, will be immediately followed by J. S. Bach's transcription of the Vivaldi work for four clavier with Madame Alice Ehlers, Harold Chaney, Malcolm Hamilton and Ralph Linsley at the keyboards. This interesting juxtaposition of Vivaldi and Bach proves, to quote Maestro Salgo "That when Bach borrowed from his fellow musicians he paid back with interest."

Rounding out this stimulating program is the impressive J.S. Bach Cantata No. 50 "Nun ist Das Heil" consisting of a monumental eight-part Motet with three trumpets, timpani, three oboes, strings and organ.

This concert will be repeated

on Friday, July 22 at the same place and hour.

B MINOR MASS ON SUNDAY

One of the most magnificent works of J.S. Bach, the complete Mass in B Minor, will again be given during the Carmel Bach Festival under the baton of Maestro Sandor Salgo this season. It will be performed on both Sunday, July 17 and Sunday, July 24 at 2:30 p.m. in the Sunset Auditorium.

Superb among concert masses, it is generally conceded to be the greatest mass of the entire Baroque period and one of Bach's crowning achievements. In one decade from 1723 to 1733 Bach wrote not only this composition, but his passion according to Saint John and his passion according to Saint Matthew as well as the "Magnificat". Bach himself never heard his entire Mass in B Minor performed for it was not given its premier performance until a hundred years later when the first half was given in Berlin in 1834 and the second half in 1835. Written by Bach, the Lutheran, the Mass embodies traditional sections of the Catholic liturgy. It is not merely a musical work but an expression of the profoundest faith and ethical insight.

The B Minor Mass was given by the Carmel Bach Festival in 1964 and this year Mr. Salgo will feature the Festival Orchestra, Choral and Chorus as well as the following outstanding soloists: Marie Gibson, soprano; Betty Allen, contralto; Pauline Law, contralto; Melvin Brown, tenor and Edwin Dunning, Bass.

HANDEL'S "ATHALIA"

"Athalia," Handel's first great English Oratorio, will be performed this season during the Carmel Bach Festival on Thursday evening. Based on Racine's tragedy, the oratorio was composed in 1733. On the morning of the performance there will be a symposium on the oratorio. Participating in the discussion will be Dr. Raymond Kendall, Mr. Robert Commanday and Dr. Virgil Whitaker. The symposium will be given, free of charge, at 11 a.m. in Parish Hall at All Saint's Episcopal Church in Carmel.

The oratorio, under the direction of Sandor Salgo, deals with the deliverance of the people of Judah from the wicked and idolatrous queen Athalia and the restoration of the ancient line of Judah to the throne in the person of young Joas. The young prince Joas has been secretly raised in the temple under the assumed name of Eliakim by the wife of the high priest, who herself had remained a devoted servant of Jehovah.

The role of Athalia will be sung by Marie Gibson; that of Josabeth, wife of the high priest, by Karen Armstrong. The part of Joad, the high priest will be sung by Pauline Law. The roles of Abner and Mathan will be sung by Edwin Dunning and Edward Jameson respectively. The part of the young prince Joas will be taken by Michael de Francesco, boy soprano from San Francisco.

Antique Show & Sale Sunday at Fairgrounds

The ninth annual Monterey Peninsula Antique Show and Sale, sponsored by St. Mary's-by-the-Sea Episcopal Church, will be held at the Monterey County Fairgrounds in the Exposition Building July 14, 15 and 16.

On Thursday, July 14, and Friday, July 15, the show will be open from 12 noon to 10 p.m. On Saturday, July 16, the hours are 12 noon to 6 p.m.

Twenty-five antique dealers from all parts of California will display and sell authentic antiques. Many pieces are of museum quality and the dealers this year indicate that they are bringing many rare and interesting items to the popular Monterey Peninsula Antique Show and Sale.

The show is open to the public and a one dollar donation ticket may be purchased at the door.

The snack bar which has proved so popular in the previous shows will be open during the show.

Garden Thoughts

Every trade, sport and hobby has its own terms to express their activities. One has to learn these expressions in order to enjoy that particular activity. When my boy told me that the Giants are going to play a "double-header", I just didn't savvy what he meant by it. Now I know, thanks to him. When a housewife dusts her furniture, she removes the dust, but when a gardener "dusts" a bush, he adds dust to the plant. You hear your nurseryman or gardener friend talk about the pH of a soil, what do they mean? The pH is a yardstick to measure the acidity or alkalinity of different soils. When the pH of a certain soil is 7, that means that it is neutral. This pH scale begins with zero--extreme acidity, and goes to 14, extreme alkalinity.

Gardeners are only concerned with pH 4 to pH9. Below this and above it, hardly any plant can grow. Below 7, the soil is acid; above 7, it is alkaline. Some plants like camellias, heather, azaleas, rhododendrons, and hydrangeas grow better when the soil is on the acid side of the scale, say pH6 to 6-1/2. Iris, pyracantha, and gypsophila, to mention a few, do better in alkaline soil, something like pH7-1/2. You can measure the pH of your soil with the help of a kit designed for this purpose. This is easy to use and you do not have to be a chemist to use it. If the soil sample you tested is alkaline, and you want to plant a camellia, then it is necessary to add to it something to make it acid, such as leaf mold, peat moss or sulfur. If you do not, the camellia eventually will become sick-looking with yellow leaves. Vice versa, if the sample is acid when tested, and you want it to be alkaline, then agricultural lime should be added.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture issued a very useful map of the U.S. and divided it into zones, according to the average annual minimum temperature. Our Valley happened to be located in zone nine, (20° F. to 30° F.). The hardiness of shrubs and trees of horticultural value is calibrated according to this map. So when you read about a plant whose hardiness is 9, that means it does well in the Valley. Plants rated at number 10 do well in an area like Santa Barbara, or San Diego, where the average annual minimum temperatures range from 30 to 40. Plants of zone 10 can sometimes be coaxed to survive in our area with special protection during wintertime.

The "Chaste tree," vitex-agnus-castus, is now in bloom. It is a deciduous shrub or small tree. The leaves are scented when bruised. Flowers are blue-purple in dense, showy, terminal spikes and are fragrant. It does well here in the Valley, and seems to have no troubles. Our four-year-old tree is now in full bloom. It is pleasant to see and smell.

Gladioli are now in their full glory of colorful bloom. If you would like to have something different in the bulb family, there are two others with white flowers which are blooming now. Both of them are fragrant. The first is the tuberose (polianthus tuberosa). The flowers are tubular, arranged in a spike-like cluster on a 2 to 3-foot stem. The flowers are so fragrant that it might be heady to some people. Tuberose do well in containers in a warm spot of your garden. The other bulb is the Peruvian daffodil (ismene calathina). The leaves are basal and strap-shaped, resembling those of the common amaryllis. Flowers are white, in a group of 2 to

by Salih Mehdy
of THE OLEANDER GARDEN SHOP

3 at the end of the 1 to 2-foot stems. The fragrance is mild and delightful, not as heady as that of the tuberose. When leaves turn yellow, lift the bulbs and store them in vermiculite in a frost-free place, like a shelf in your garage. Plant bulbs in spring; their tips should be just a little under the surface of the soil.

Record crowd sees T&S Award Series Horse Show

The largest crowd of the season turned out for the fifth Trail and Saddle Club Award Series Horse Show on Sunday to see the "Cachagua Kids" walk off with top honors in each age bracket.

Marion Nason won high points in the eight year and under group with 29 points.

Fred Nason was high point winner in the 9-12 bracket with 39 points.

Kris Swanson totaled 26 points in the 13-17 year old category.

During the show, Jack Swanson held a horsemanship clinic in the small arena for youngsters who were participating. There will be another one conducted during next Sunday's Show, and all entrants are eligible to join. Kids that are not in the events may sit on the fence and watch the clinic, according to Jack.

The five events were divided into three age categories. Winners in each event were as follows: Halter- 8 and under: Winner, Lindsey Wolf; 2nd, Julie Zoellin; 3d, Alan Crockett. Halter-9 through 12:

under the oaks & among the cacti

By Mildred Hattan

The new home of Doris and John Mark with its panoramic view of the Valley (would you believe, world!) was given a surprise champagne housewarming last week by friends who had gathered at the Laurel Drive home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee to form a caravan to the top of Robles del Rio, high above the Lodge. The Mark daughter, Marnie, had been entrusted with both the secret and the task of keeping her parents home. Desserts and coffee prepared by the guests were enjoyed during the evening by the Marks, the Lees, Mr. and Mrs. Don Brill, and Dr. and Mrs. John Davis.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department held a dessert business meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. Donald Laird on Lilac Lane. Plans for the annual Fall fashion show sponsored by the organization were discussed. The theme of "Cocktail Capers" has been changed to a luncheon to be held on the 28th of September.

Proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison, of the Carmel Valley Inn, received word that their daughter, Jeremy, has been awarded a scholarship presented annually by the St. Francis Hotel to a student for high proficiency. Jeremy is spending the summer months in San Francisco where she is employed at Del Webb's Town House.

First time campers are Mr. and Mrs. Seung Paik Park who are spending their two week vacation at Lake Tahoe. Sunzahn, as Choir director, and Mr. Park as organist at the Community Chapel, left the duties of organist in the capable hands of Music Director of White Oaks Theatre, Christopher Nance.

Wearing a blue and white sailor dress, Miss Kimberly Parham greeted guests and their mothers invited to celebrate her second birthday last week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Parham, Poppy Road. Kimmie accepted each gift with an enthusiastic, "Oh Boy!" followed by a worried request for "More?" Guests were seated at a table decorated in an orange and yellow theme and served orange punch and cupcakes topped with strawberries.

Making up the guest list were: Mrs. Michael Rickets, Jodie, Joe and Jennie, Mrs. Jimmy Madsen and Steven, Mrs. Danny Moore and Danny, Mrs. David Cunningham, Julie and David, Mrs. Bud Wescott, Wes and Ginger, Mrs. Michael Carter and Joey, Mrs. Alexander Collins, Kathy, Sharon, and Patricia, Miss Leah Sherman, Misses Sandy and Vickie Harber, Mrs. Loren Wilder and Lane and Master Nels Holman. A special guest was Kimmie's great-aunt, Mrs. Elaine Scarlett.

Kimmie with her mother, Judy, left this week for a month with Judy's parents, former Valley residents Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reams in Juneau, Alaska. Judy plans to have her sisters, Kristian and Nancy return with her for a visit with their many Valley friends before school starts in the far north.

Mr. and Mrs. Erasimo Belleci announce the arrival of their fifth child, a son, whom they have named Mathew Vincent. Master Belleci checked into the Community Hospital June 29th. His birth weight was 8 lbs. 12 oz. Waiting at home on Paso Hondo with a very warm welcome were his brother and sisters, Anthony, Rosalie, Christine and Katherine. Grandparents of the children are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Tierney of the Cachagua, and Mr. and Mrs. Neno Belleci of Middle Canyon Road.

Jenny and Dean Diaz who recently returned from their vacation are in need of a second holiday to recover from a terror-filled trip spent near the Fresno gate of Yosemite at Fish Camp. Leaving Jenny at a motel, Dean set off on an early morning fishing trip. The dense underbrush complicated by a rambling stream with tricky course-changing switchbacks made Dean's attempt to return to his car an impossibility. He wandered until 8:30 that night when he found the stump of a large tree which he climbed and stayed in until daylight. Below he could hear the sounds of animals. The countryside is filled with bear, wildcats and mountain lions, but minus two rattlesnakes which Dean had killed while looking for his car.

Meanwhile, back at the motel, Jenny became frightened when Dean did not return for their dinner date, so notified Rangers. When they took her to identify his car beside the stream, she was terrified. With so many Rangers at the forest fire in Santa Barbara and darkness settling in, the search was discontinued until the next morning.

The family here was notified that Dean was missing and eight men left immediately to assist with the search. They located him the next day, six and a half miles from his car, and Dean became one of the few lost persons ever to get out of that rugged area alive. Dean's advice for other avid fishermen is "Don't go into rugged country alone." Both of the Valleyites expressed gratitude for the many kindnesses afforded them by the Rangers.

Ernst Weilenmann, Jr. was presented for the Sacrament of Christian Baptism recently by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Weilenmann, Sr., at the Carmel Valley Community Chapel. The Weilenmanns who reside on Los Arboles Road, are the parents of another son and a daughter. Godparents for Master Weilenmann are Martha Wenischmayer, Mrs. Weilenmann's sister whose home is Switzerland, and Mr. Edward Wolfer of Pacific Grove.

Cmdr. R.D. Botten retires after 25 years of service

Commander Ralph D. Botten, an instructor in naval warfare at the Naval Postgraduate School since 1961, retired from the Navy Thursday, June 30, during ceremonies held at the School.

Commander Botten, who is completing 25 years of active naval service, has been appointed manager of the Valley Cinema which is scheduled to open in August.

A naval aviator since 1942, the commander has logged over 4,000 hours in Navy aircraft. He received the Distinguished Flying Cross for his action as a member of the strike group that sank the Japanese battleship Yamato, the biggest ship afloat at the time. He was also awarded three Air Medals for World War II service.

A native of Carson, North Dakota, Botten attended Concordia College in Moorhead, Minnesota, before joining the Navy in 1941.

He and his wife, Margaret, make their home at 38 Berwick Drive in Carmel Valley with their daughters Ruth Ann and Carol Jane.

Heading the long list of Valleyites who have returned from vacation are Betty and Tom Hefling. While Tom and Lou Allaire hiked into the hills with a group of boys, Betty enjoyed a visit with her mother whose home is in Fresno. When the men returned from their jaunt into the wilderness, the Heflings accompanied Betty's mother to Fresno for a visit before ending their holiday with a spree in San Francisco.

Mr. Ralph Trout has moved from his home in La Rancheria to Fort Lauderdale, Florida, where he will make his home near a sister. Life in Florida will not be a new experience for the Valleyite who resided in St. Petersburg for fifteen years.

Among the cunning new arrivals in the Valley are the baby

New officers appointed at CV Fire Dept.

Fire Chief A. A. "Chip" Collins announces changes in the list of officers for the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department. Don Cummings has been moved from Lt. of Company II to Capt. of Company I, replacing Pete Danielson who is on leave of absence following a lengthy illness. George Palmer will serve as acting Lt. of Company I, replacing Don Cummings.

Larry Cummings has been named Lt. of Company I, replacing Orval Dutton who is on leave of absence. Capt. of Company I is Boyd Danielson.

Chief Collins also named four firemen to the post of Engineers (drivers of emergency vehicles): Don Laird, Bill Parham, Don Corona, and Art Harber.

PG Museum opens show of primitive art

"Partners in Progress" is a new exhibition of artifacts and photographs from the territory of Papua and New Guinea currently on view at the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History. The material has not previously been shown in North America.

Qantas, Australia's overseas airline, is supplying the exhibition.

This is an exhibition of the territory as it is today, a series of basically primitive cultures suddenly hurled into the 20th century; a group desiring the benefits of modern society but seriously handicapped by lack of communication and the resulting language and cultural differences. The towering mountain ranges with peaks rising over 15,000 feet, vast steamy swamps, rushing rivers, impenetrable jungles and innumerable coral atolls have been the obstacles to communication. The centuries of isolation of neighbor from neighbor have allowed the development of separate customs and an amazing total of more than 500 dialects.

Carved masks are perhaps the best known, but the wide ranging art of the territory's craftsmen include masks, figures, tables, drums, spatulas, and models. Examples of each of these art forms are shown in the exhibition. Tapa cloth made from beaten bark is another aspect of native art. Basketware and weaving in a variety of styles is well developed. The basketry from Buka Island with its triangular duotone patterning contrasts with the more colorful but less known weaving of other areas.

The exhibition opened on July 5, and will remain until July 26. The Museum is located at the corner of Forest and Central Avenues in Pacific Grove. The hours are 10:00 a.m. until 5 p.m. daily, except Monday, and admission is free.

Janet Powers

At the June Carmelo 4-H meeting the officers for the coming year were elected by the club's members. The new slate of officers is as follows: President, Marjorie Ingram; Vice President, Nancy Thornburg; Treasurer, Martha Crow; Secretaries, George Coleman and Jackie Beck; Reporter, Janet Powers; Song Leader, Billy Ingram; and Sergeant at Arms, John Darch.

The 4-H members are very busy this summer preparing for the annual Exhibit Day, which is to be held at the Trail and Saddle Club Grounds on July 24, and the Monterey County Fair in August. All members must exhibit in Exhibit Day to be eligible to re-enroll. Also on the same day at 1 p.m. Carmelo 4-H will put on a horse show for all of the Valley's young people. It should be an interesting day. The day will start at 10 in the morning and continue until 4 in the afternoon.

Mediterranean burros who were born at the River Ranch. Looking for all the world like a child's cuddly toy, the colts with their jennies vie for attention with the tiny Shetland colts (descendents of the famous stallion, Topper) in their pasture on West Carmel Valley Road.

A birthday cake decorated like a flag was served to guests invited to the pre-Fourth of July luncheon celebrating the 13th birthday of Terry Graham at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Graham of Village Drive. Following the luncheon, Terry and her friends spent an exciting afternoon roller skating at the Del Monte Gardens in Monterey. Among the guests was Jane Crush who spent the long week-end with the Graham family and returned home to San Francisco on Sunday. Others attending were: Terry's sister, Vicki, Janet Miller, Kelly Garner, and Bonnie Hendrix.

An exhausting day of fun and recreation was enjoyed on the 3d of July by members and families of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department. Beginning with a Socko game at the fire house, the party moved to Rippling River Ranch where they enjoyed the pool facilities. Back to the fire house, the by now starving firemen held a potluck barbecue supper, followed by a dance that evening at the Cummings Building.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mills of Live Oak Lane are enjoying a visit with their grandson, Mark Boles, who came by train from his home in San Gabriel for a two week visit. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Boles, will drive to the Valley to pick up their son and visit for a few days at the Mills' home.

Congratulations to Kathy and Roger Sherman who celebrated their anniversary, accompanied by June and Ken Van Hagen, last week-end at Will's Fargo.

The James Sanders family have returned to their home on Berwick Drive after a month in the East. Mr. Sanders flew to Boston on May 31 to give a paper for the American Acoustical Society. Mrs. Sanders and their three children, Renee, Maria and Kathy, met him in Cleveland. Leaving their daughters for a week's visit with Mrs. Sanders' mother, the Valley couple flew to New York City with Jim's parents for the marriage of his sister.

A three day tour of New York was followed by a visit in Fredricksburg, Virginia with friends and where Jim was able to do some research for the American Aviation Historical Society. Leaving Virginia they toured Washington and while her husband remained there to do more research, Mrs. Sanders flew to Niles, Ohio, to visit her mother for a week. The Sanders family were reunited in Cleveland where they attended a reception for the newlyweds and a family reunion. It was the first trip East in five years for the Valley family who enjoyed the opportunity to visit with so many members of their family and old friends.

College students hired to complete the summer staff at the Carmel Valley Inn are quickly adopted by the community. Two favorites this year of both tourists and residents are Jerry Saroyan of Fresno, and Robin Strosnider of Carmel. Jerry, a nephew of author William Saroyan, has charge of the outdoor barbecues held each week-end at the Inn. Robin, who left the day after she graduated from Carmel High School two years ago for Australia, had barely landed on home shores again when she found herself a member of the Inn's summer family. Daphne Myers, a former Valleyite, is teaching swimming and lifeguarding at the Inn pool...and having a ball visiting with her many friends in the area.

Trout planted in Big Sur River

Planting crews from the Department of Fish and Game will stock the Big Sur River with catachable-size rainbow trout this week.

Anglers are reminded this shedule is subject to changes caused by weather and water conditions.

Graduation exercises held at Vacation Bible School

Graduation exercises of the Vacation Bible School took place on Friday, July 1, at the Carmel Valley Community Chapel. An enthusiastic audience of mothers and fathers listened to the children demonstrate what they had learned.

The program began with a song service culminating in an antiphonal presentation of the hymn "Fairest Lord Jesus." Rev. Don Johnson presented awards to the children of the two classes which had the best attendance records. Little gold crosses and gold hearts were given to the Junior High students, who ranked first, and the Juniors. At appropriate intervals various children offered prayers which they themselves had composed. The pre-schoolers under the leadership of Mrs. Milton Klikovac, Mrs. James Gleim, Mrs. Clell Stewart, Mrs. Jerry Katzman, and Miss Jane Mewhirter, sang little motion songs illustrating various Bible stories. Christine Borregaard, Lindy Doud, Mrs. Don Brill and Mrs. Larry Busick had the kindergartners hold up pictures with which they recited inspiring selections.

The first graders, led by Mrs. Roy Kaminske and Mrs. Tom Henderson, told the story of the Israelites. Mrs. Paul Naton's and Stephanie Frisbie's costumed second graders took us back to Bible times and Bible lands by demonstrating the potters at work. The great battle between David and Goliath was fought by the colorfully costumed children of the third grade, whose leaders were Mrs. Arlo Pitcher, Stephen and Pat Pitcher. Mrs. Walter Mauzey's fourth graders, assisted by Cynthia and Peter Mauzey, explained items from their treasure chest to help them on the pathway of life, while the fifth and sixth graders, led by Mrs. Frank Bresk, repeated and discussed the Lord's Prayer.

The seventh-graders recited the Ten Commandments. Two of these Junior High students, Paul Bresk and Peter Mauzey, devised a clever Time Line machine representing a doorway through which the audience passed as they came in from the twentieth century back to Bible times. The leaders of this group were Mrs. Glen Low and Dr. and Mrs. James Short.

At the close of the program, parents, teachers and students enjoyed refreshments served by Mrs. Frank Graham and Mrs. Kirk Gayman, and inspected the fine work done by the children in crafts.

Mrs. Stella Miller was in charge of refreshments through the course, and Mrs. Raymond Danielson was registrar.

The Valley at LARGE

By GINNIE DREW

Comings and goings of people you know...

A bratwurst and beer party at the Upper Circle home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gerstl brought together a large group of friends and students to say farewell to sculptor Arch Garner and his wife, Ginny. Arch will teach sculpture at the new University of Maui, which also lured away another Peninsulan, Linden Leavitt, who is president of the college. The Garners expect to leave this month.

The group who gathered on Sunday afternoon for the festivities included: Mssrs. and Mmes. Gordon Newell, Pete Souvacs, Jim Smith, Jack Briscoe, Jim Ziegler, Art Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. John Koon and Judy, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dagen and Tim, Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Burnett and Steffen, Mrs. Joan Bennett, Pru Ducich, Mrs. John Senger, Mrs. June Campbell, Mrs. Tom Bottaro, Mrs. Leonard Rhoades and Sherry, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Carver and Vicky, Sally and Kay Witter, Marlinde Von Ruhs, Mike Cunningham, Bid Bidwell, Sando Berger, George Ramirez, Richard Hayman, Dick Crispo, Jim Junolt, and Nadine Furtado.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuel Sutton of Hacienda Carmel returned at the end of June from a three months motor tour of eight countries in Central Europe.

Driving a new Mercedes, they clocked nearly 10,500 miles.

A new Mercedes in Europe is not an unusual experience for Reuel and Barbara, however. This is the sixth one which they have gotten while on European jaunts.

They are looking forward to the U.S. arrival of this, their newest car, aboard a ship docking in San Francisco around the first of August.

Mrs. Irwin (Alice) Johnson, who is the Grand President of Pi Beta Phi Sorority, just returned from their national convention which was held at the Settlement School in Gatlinburg, Tennessee. This school has been a Pi Phi project in the heart of the Smoky Mountains for many years, specializing in helping the mountain folk learn crafts and vocations which will enable them to earn a living.

Shortly after arriving home from her stint at the convention, Alice joined Irwin on a three day Sierra Club backpacking trip through the high meadows of Sequoia National Park. Only after they had returned did she note on the program that this hike was not recommended for beginners. Oh, well....Alice is no longer a beginner!

Swimmers plan Jamboree at Valley pool

The Swim Jamboree climaxing the end of the first session of swim lessons at the Valley Pool will be held on Friday at 9:30 a.m.

All interested friends and parents of swimmers are invited to attend.

There will be competition in all levels of swimming including a diving exhibition and life saving demonstration. Ribbons will be awarded by recreation director Chuck Dawson for first, second, and third places.

SECOND SESSION SIGNUP

Parents who wish to sign their children up for the second session of swim lessons can do so this week by calling the Carmel Recreation office at 624-3342. This is necessary if the youngsters have not been participating in the first session of lessons. New classes start on July 18.

Classes will again be offered in beginning swimming, advanced beginner, intermediate, and advanced swimmer. Diving instruction for beginners, intermediate or advanced will also be available.

New classes in Junior and Senior Life Saving will be taught at 11 a.m. Ken White is anxious to have as many youngsters 12-16 as possible in the Junior Life Saving group. Sixteen years of age is the minimum limit for Senior Life Saving.

The response to the pre-school swimming lessons was so tremendous that several extra instructors have been put on to help finish the group. Over 120 youngsters were signed up in the 4, 5, and 6 year group.

According to Ken White, the recreation department hopes to expand the pre-school program even more next summer.

MPVS ladies meet, Tombola Mart committeemen appointed

At the monthly meeting of MPVS a check for $7,872.28 was presented to Mr. Thomas Tonkin, Community Hospital Administrator, for the hospital. This represented the profit from the MPVS Thrift Shop for the month of June and was the largest amount ever made in one month.

Mrs. C. L. Underwood, of La Rancheria, has announced the chairmen of her many committees, whose work will culminate this fall in the Tombola Mart, the fall project of the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services. They are as follows: Sewing,

Mrs. Leonard Redfield; Gourmet, Mrs. Allen Craig; Treasures, Mrs. Edwin Bidwell; Jewelry, Mrs. W. Lincoln Noelle; Hats and Accessories, Mrs. Lawrence Kinsler; Crafts and Hobbies, Mrs. Ellis Egan and Mrs. Clare Appleby; Housewares, Mrs. Walter Jennings; Linens, Mrs. C. Getty Fairchild; Door Prizes, Mrs. Thurman Bane; Treasurer, Mrs. Howard Healey; Properties, Mrs. Frank Lang; Decorations, Mrs. Carl Wester; Tickets, Mrs. Carl Ristau; Garden, Miss Gertrude Rendtorff.

The Cafe will be staffed by members of the Symphony Guild. They are offering their services since the proceeds this year will go to the Monterey County Symphony Association, the Family Service Agency and the Visiting Nurses Association.

Valley Firemen have busy week, seven calls made

A grass fire set by children burned 3500 square feet June 30 at 2:45 p.m. near the Community Center. The children who were playing with matches were apprehended, punished by their parents, and given make-up work at the Fire Station.

Members of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department were called to the Wolf residence on West Carmel Valley Road July 1 at 3:20 p.m. to free a filly caught in a walnut tree.

George McDevitt, driving a car owned by Jack Niccoli, was involved in a single car accident July 2 at 3:37 a.m. at Holman and West Carmel Valley Roads. The emergency was phoned in as an explosion and fire, but no fire occurred. McDevitt was treated at the scene by members of the first aid crew and transported to the Community Hospital.

A medical emergency at 3:15 a.m. July 1 took the American Red Cross Ambulance to pick up Frank Craig at the Roberts Ranch. The patient was taken to the Monterey Hospital since all beds at the Community Hospital were filled.

A second trip to the Monterey Hospital was made with a medical emergency July 1 at 10 p.m. The patient was Mrs. Vincent O'Connor of Esquiline Road.

The first aid squad was called to the White Oaks Coffee Shop July 2 at 7:55 p.m. where a Valley visitor was suffering from severe heat prostration. Margaret Carney, 358 Lombard Street, San Francisco, was treated by a local physician and returned to the Los Laureles Lodge.

The American Red Cross ambulance was taken to the Fred Nason Ranch on the Cachagua July 2 at 11:18 a.m. to transport David Lisk of Salinas to the Community Hospital. Young Lisk had been thrown from a horse.

Burlap clue in CV burglary

Thieves broke into Village House Monday night or early Tuesday morning through a narrow high window opening into the office. All other doors and windows had been bugged with an alarm system.

In an attempt to blast the front off the safe, gunpowder from shotgun bullets was emptied into the crevices and set afire. A piece of natural colored burlap about 9 by 12 feet was brought by the thieves to muffle any explosion. From the pattern left on it by fading it appeared to have been used as a wall cover. Three pieces had been sewn together and in the middle was a rectangle about 30 by 40 inches where a painting or poster had hung. To the right of this was a small rectangle the size of a wall switchplate.

Anyone who has recently replaced a piece of burlap answering this description, or who has seen one either in a house or on a trash pile could help the Sheriff's Department by reporting it.

A VILLA above the harbour is the subject of a Pomeroy painting.

Husband and wife artists open watercolor show in Talbott Building

A combined show of recent watercolors by Mary and Fred Pomeroy will open on Monday, in the Talbott Building, next to The Pampered Hamper. The exhibit which will hang until the middle of August, consists mainly of scenes which they captured during their recent year in Europe.

The sabbatical leave which Fred took a year ago from his third and fourth grade classes at Tularcitos School was spent in France and traveling through England and on the Continent. For eight months

Fred studied at the University of Aix at Marseille while he, Mary, and their two children lived at Ville France. It is the countryside of rural France, the harbours and flowers that Fred has portrayed in his watercolors.

Mary, the daughter of a German landscape artist and portrait painter, studied with her father in Quito, Ecuador, after they left Europe in 1936. She became interested in the wild flowers of that country and painted a comprehensive collection of the native blooms.

This led to her position as a scientific illustrator at the University of California. While there she illustrated the textbook, "A Flora of the Marshes of California," by Herbert Mason.

Mary also studied portrait, figure and landscape painting in the East and has exhibited in Quito, Philadelphia, San Francisco and Berkeley, as well as locally.

The exhibit will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day, including Sunday, from Monday, July 18, through Saturday, August 13.
